

SC Electric Transportation Network

IN THE NEWS

WMBF: New program in South Carolina offering EV drivers $150 savings on their energy bill

"As more drivers make the switch to electric vehicles, companies like Horry Electric Cooperative are looking for new ways to spread their energy further while saving you a few extra bucks," writes WMBF's Ian Klein.

GSA Business Report: Proterra produces first EV battery at its Greer plant

"Proterra Inc., a commercial vehicle electrification technology company, has produced the first Proterra Powered EV battery at its new Powered 1 battery manufacturing plant in Greer," writes GSA Business Reports' Jason Thomas.

Post & Courier: EV investments will build a stronger future for South Carolinians

"The new EV charging station, which is free for residents and visitors of our city, will help accelerate more widespread adoption of EVs, spurring American innovation and creating additional jobs in our growing Lowcountry clean-energy sector," writes Goose Creek Mayor Greg Habib.

WBTW: Santee Cooper to fund electric vehicle charging projects along Grand Strand

"A Santee Cooper grant awarded to several Grand Strand companies will help bring more electric vehicle chargers to the area," writes WBTW's Claire Purnell.

The State: As more EVs hit the road, what will SC need to accommodate growth in the industry?

"South Carolina leaders want to get more electric vehicles on the road and even manufactured in the state, but say a greater network of charging stations across the state, particularly in rural areas, is needed first, writes The State's Joseph Bustos.

WCSC: City unveils first draft of new ordinance to expand EV charging infrastructure

"The City of Charleston has unveiled the first draft of an ordinance to add more charging infrastructure for electric cars that would only apply to new buildings within city limits," writes WCSC's Rey Llerena.

MISS OUR LAST MEETING?

WATCH IT HERE

JOIN OUR NETWORK HERE

JOIN US FOR OUR NEXT MEETING

Speakers include: an SC alternative fuels tax credit bill update from CVSC, Kyle James with the Berkeley Charleston Dorchester Council of Governments on the CHATS Regional Electric Vehicle Strategy, and more.

EVENTS

February 8

Webinar: Preparing for USDOT Discretionary Grant Opportunities
3:00 - 4:00

February 14-16

South Carolina Auto Summit
Registration is open now!

February 16

SC Electric Transportation Network Meeting
11:00 - 12:00

February 16

Webinar: Electrified Cities: Federal Funding for Local Governments
2:00 - 3:00

South Carolina Auto Summit
February 14-16

The SC Automotive Summit draws C-level executives, managers and other top decision makers of OEMs, Tier 1, 2 and 3 suppliers, leading research institutions, test facilities, logistics and other service providers and organizations directly tied to the automotive industry.

QUESTIONS?

CONTACT KATIE HAGAN AT KATIE@CVSC.ORG

